

Felix Wang started taking violin lessons when he was four and became a member of Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra (BYSO) two years after. He has been the concertmaster of BYSO these past few years and led the Rimsky-Korsakov Scheherazade. Felix also played the concertmaster for SEMMEA and SEMSBA junior district festival orchestras. Felix was the 1st place winner of the Bay State String Competition, the Elite International Music Competition, the Grand Prize Virtuoso Competition, the VIVO International Music Competition, Danubia Talents Liszt International Music Competition, Canadian International Music Competition, and the American Protégé International Piano & String Competition (Judges' Distinction Award) etc. Felix was also the Grand Prix winner of the Concert Festival Orchestra International Concerto Competition. Felix was invited to perform at the Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center, the Musikverein in Vienna, and Beethoven's House in Bonn, Germany. Felix also enjoys time with friends on his East Coast Militia Hockey team.