

He was born in February 2008 in the beautiful West Lake area of Hangzhou. He has been passionate about music and reading since childhood. He actively participates in various public welfare activities at school and society. At the age of 7, he began studying trombones under Fan Yu, the former deputy chief of the Hangzhou Philharmonic Orchestra, a trombone teacher at Zhejiang Conservatory of Music Affiliated Middle School, and also a teacher in the orchestral department of Zhejiang Conservatory of Music. He was admitted to Zhejiang Conservatory of Music Affiliated Middle School in September 2020 to continue studying trombones until now.

During his studies, he actively participated in various music exchange activities. In July 2021, he participated in the first China Orchestra Network&Ovis International Music Festival, the second China Orchestra Network Orchestra Grand Prix, and the eighth China International Bass Copper Tube Art Festival. He also exchanged and studied with many outstanding teachers and students from domestic music colleges.