

Ariadni was born in 2009. She lives in Thessaloniki.

She has attended a lot of master classes by piano professors from various countries.

She has been awarded:

A first prize (silver medal) in the “Thess Junior Piano Contest” (Thessaloniki/Greece).

A first prize in the International Piano Competition “Citta Di Arona” (Italy - online).

A second prize in the International Music Award - organized by the Franz Schubert Conservatory (Vienna/Austria - online).

A first prize in the 3rd Music Competition “Tasos Pappas” (Thessaloniki/Greece).

A second prize in the Odin International Music competition (Dublin/Ireland - online).

A first prize in the II International Gloria Artis Music Competition (Vienna/Austria - online).

A first prize in the 5th National Music Competition “Orpheus Soloists” (Thessaloniki/Greece).

A first prize in the 5th International Musical Virtual Festival Competition “Gates of Hope” (Israel - online).

A first prize in the 2nd International Amadeus Online Piano Competition, (Italy - online).

A third prize in the North International Music Competition (online) (there were no awards for first and second prizes).

A first prize in the 7th International online music competition NOUVELLES ETOILES (Paris/France - online).

A first prize in the 12th International Competition for Young Musicians “Citta di Massa” (Italy - online).

A first prize in the International Piano Competition Orbetello (Italy - online).

A second prize in the Tenth Stockholm International Music Competition (Sweden - online).

A Gold Award in the 5th WPTA FINLAND International Piano Competition (online).

A first prize in the Gustav Mahler Prize Piano Competition 2023 and an Honorable Mention for the interpretation of composition by Sergei Prokofiev (Czech Republic – online).

A third prize in the 19th International Festival-Competition for Pianists “VILLAHERMOSA” (Villahermosa/Mexico – online). Pianists from more than 20 countries participated in the Competition.

She qualified, as the only non-russian performer, for the final round in the Second International Chamber Music Competition “Winterreise”, in Moscow, was included in 2 out of 13 prizes of the finals and invited for a master class in the Tchaikovsky Conservatory in Moscow.

She has performed twice in the Concert Hall of Thessaloniki, in the Archaeological Museum of Thessaloniki, in Vienna and Paris.